REVAMPED LEGACY TRAVEL WEBSITE MAKES DREAMING UP THE PERFECT TRIP ONLY A CLICK AWAY

Unique Features like Custom Itinerary Services and Honeymoon Registry Helps North Texans More Easily Plan their Travels

Plano, TX (October 22, 2005) – Legacy Travel, Plano’s travel agency, announced today that its revamped Web site (www.legacytravel.com) is now ready to help travelers more easily dream up and plan their perfect vacation. Cathi Banks, co-owner of Legacy Travel with her husband Philip, spent many months developing the unique features of the site based on her deep knowledge of what North Texan travelers require from a travel agency’s Web site.

“Legacy Travel has been serving North Texan travelers since 1989,” explained Cathi Banks. “Since we talk to our customers every single day, we had a good idea what features our Web site needed to have to better serve those who are looking for quick answers online, rather than by phone or in person.”

Three features of the Web site are particularly different. For those who can’t wait for normal business hours to plan their trip and have questions they need answered, the “Ask a Travel Agent” will ensure that they get the information they need. A short form allows visitors to the Legacy Travel Web site to ask Philip, Cathi and the rest of the Legacy Travel staff questions they may have about a location, a fare or anything else on their mind when planning a trip.

The Destination Wedding/Honeymoon Planning section is quickly becoming customers’ favorite part of the new Web site. Philip and Cathi Banks have developed a reputation for helping couples plan the perfect destination wedding and the Web site now provides another way for the planning to be completely seamless. Couples booking their destination wedding with Legacy Travel are provided with a password protected page in the Wedding/Honeymoon section that allows invited guests to obtain all the information to plan their own trips. Couples who are hoping for a little help with their dream honeymoon can now also start a registry with Legacy Travel and have it easily accessible online.

“We take special care with every trip we plan for our customers, whether it’s to Kansas or Italy, but we know how important every detail is for brides and grooms trusting us with their special day,” said Philip Banks. “Our Destination Wedding/Honeymoon Planning section will help make the planning even easier for our engaged couples and we’re particularly proud of this feature on the Web site.”

For North Texans hoping for a good price on a great trip, the Hot Deals section will quickly become their new best friend. Updated whenever a new bargain is available by one of the many suppliers that Legacy Travel represents, trip planners can check out the deals available before planning their special vacation.

Legacy Travel's new Web site also offers information on Custom Itinerary Service, one of the travel agency's specialties which they have become renown for in North Texas, having helped thousands of travelers plan a great itinerary tailored to their special interests, budgets and time constraints. Phil and Cathi provide in-depth trip consultations either in-person or by phone to plan a stress-free European vacation.
